

Encore

How to Play:

Divide your group into several smaller groups (4-5 students each). Have a prepared list of common words that could be found in any number of songs.

When you call out a word, the first group to stand to their feet, and in unison, sing the song containing the given word gets a point (group must sing the portion of the song in which this word appears).

If it appears that there is a tie, give the point to the group that sang the loudest.

Play to a set amount of points.

Twist:

Make the game fit the theme of your night. For instance if you are talking about dating and relationships, have all the words that you give be words commonly found in love songs.

Or require that the words you give must fit a certain genre or type of song.