

A Completely Anonymous Questionnaire

This is a fun mixer to get students moving around and interacting with those they normally wouldn't interact with.

How to Play:

Hand out the questionnaire to students as they enter your meeting. Have them fill it out completely and hand it to an adult leader. When you are ready for the game hand out the questionnaires randomly, play some fun music and let the students find the author of the questionnaire that they now have.

Give prizes to the first few to find their questionnaire author. As students begin locating each other have them share some of the interesting facts that they are learning with the group.

Time:

It depends on the size of the group. As students may be having trouble, begin calling out on the microphone certain answers to questions until the questionnaire author claims his/her answers.
