

Celebrity “Guess”t

This is a mixer game that tests your group’s knowledge of pop culture/ celebrities

How to Play:

Hand out enough name tags so that every person in your group has one. Instruct them to secretly write down the name of a well-known celebrity or famous person. Have them stick it to the forehead of a friend. Everyone should have the name of a celebrity on their head.

It is now each person’s job to discover their new identity. In order to do this they must walk around asking only yes/no questions. And they cannot ask any one person two questions in a row (this keeps them mixing). When they have discovered who they are, they can have a seat.

Give the poor student who is the last one standing a prize...something like a people magazine, a CD, a movie ticket...because obviously they need to brush up on their celebrity news.
